

Alfons van der Vyver is a senior manager in KPMG's Insurance specialist department mainly responsible for delivering advisory services to the insurance industry. He is part of the KPMG South Africa team specialising in IFRS for insurers. During 2005 he worked on a multi-disciplinary team responsible for the IFRS conversion at Prudential plc, and thereafter assisted various South African insurers with their transition to IFRS. He has acted as CFO in the industry before, which allows him insight into the operational challenges faced by a finance function. Alfons has presented various insurance training courses and IFRS updates to clients.
